If euer he haue wife let her be made
As miſerable by the death of him,
As I am made by my poore Lord and thee.
Come now towards Cherſey with your holy load
Taken from Pauls to be in interred there:
And ſtill as you are weary of the waight, Enter
Reſt you whiles I lament King Henries corſe. Glocoſter.
Glo. Stay you that beare the coarſe, and ſet it downe.
La. What blacke Magitian,coniures vp this fiend
To ſtop deuoted charitable deeds:
Glo. Villaine, ſet downe the coarſe, or by Saint Paul,
Ile make a corſe of him that diſobeyes?
Gen. Stand backe and let the coffin paſſe.
Glo. Vnmannerly dog, ſtandſt thou when I command,
Aduance thy halbert higher then my breaſt,
Or by Saint Paul ile ſtrike thee to my foote,
And ſpurne vpon thee begger for thy boldneſſe.
La. What do you tremble,are you all affraid?
Alaſſe,I blame you not for you are mortall,
And mortall eyes cannot endure the Diuell.
Auant thou fearefull miniſter of hell,
Thou hadſt but power ouer his mortall body,
His ſoule thou canſt not haue therefore be gone,
Glo. Sweet Saint for charity be not ſo curſt.
La. Foule diuell,for Gods ſake hence,and trouble vs not,
For thou haſt made the happy earth thy hell,
Fil'd it with curſing cryes,and deepe exclaimes,
If thou delight to view thy hanious deeds,
Behold this patterne of thy butcheries.
Oh Gentlemen ſee, ſee dead Henries wounds,
Open their congeald mouths and bleed afreſh,
Bluſh,bluſh, thou lumpe of foule deformity,
For tis thy preſence that exhals this blood,
From cold and empty veines where no blood dwels.
Thy deed inhumane and vnnaturall,
Prouokes this deluge moſt vnnaturall,
Oh God, which this blood mad'ſt, reuenge his death:
Oh earth which this blood drinkſt,reuenge his death:
Either heauen with lightning ſtrike the murderer dead,

Or Earth gape open wide, and eate him quick
As thou didſt ſwallow vp this good Kings blo
